

FRESNO, Calif., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Thirty-three persons were believed to have perished today as a chartered airplane crashed in the Diablo section of the coast range near here. There were no survivors.

The Civil aeronautics administration at Oakland said the crashed plane left the Oakland airport this morning with 28 Mexican nationals, all agricultural workers, a United States immigration department guard, and a crew of four fliers.

By 11:30 a.m. nineteen bodies had been removed from the smoking wreckage.
CAA SAID THE chartered plane was operated by airline transport carrier, in San Francisco that line said it had not confirmed the accident directly.
An airline pilot flying over the scene a few minutes after the crash sighted the burning wreckage and reported by radio that one of the crashed plane's wings could be seen a considerable distance from the fuselage.
The first persons to reach the scene said the plane blazed a bit and had burned out before the rescuers could get the doors open.

Trapped in Blaze Four Children Perish In Remote Farmhouse

LAVERGNE, Que. Jan. 28.—(CP)—Four young children were burned to death yesterday in a remote two-story frame farmhouse 2½ miles south of this Nipissing district hamlet after their father, Donat Ducharme, tossed his four other children to his pyramidal wife who stood in three feet of snow below an upstairs window.

TRAPPED in the blaze which started from an unknown cause as 28-below-zero weather gripped the jackpine-hill hills of this lonely section of Northern Ontario near the northwest arm of Lake Nipissing were Florette Ducharme, eight; Gerard, seven; Gene, four; and Henri, two.

The couple found temporary shelter in a stable with the four children they saved—Florian, 11; Genevieve, nine; Fred, six; and Henriette, the year-old baby.

So remote is the little farm that the nearest telephone is in Verrier, a community of 1500 population about 15 miles away. None of the five needed Provincial Constable Ralph Crozier in Sturgeon Falls, 27 miles from Lavergne, could get to the spot by 5:30 p.m. yesterday.

MR. DUCHARME, whose own parents were killed in a level-crossing collision at Sturgeon Falls three years ago, was too dazed last night to suggest how the fire could have started.

The Ducharme home stood in an isolated spot in the bush about 2½ miles from this farming settlement which has a population of about 270. It was accessible only by sleigh over a rough bush road.

Residents of the area said they believed the fire could have started from an overheated stove.

Britain Boosts Bacon Prices

LONDON, Jan. 28.—(CP)—The food ministry increased bacon prices today by 15 cents a pound today because of rising costs.

A government decision not to increase food subsidies about the present £320,000,000 (£15,000,000,000) influenced the decision.

Under the new plan, the price of a 10 lb. ham will be 35 cents and 40 cents a pound, depending on the quality. The increase will be two pence a pound by April.

Defence Minister A. V. Alexander told the House of Commons that home-based sailors will have their meat ration increased 10 percent from a little more than two pounds a week. Bacon ration will be reduced from seven ounces weekly to 2½ pounds. To compensate, the sailors will receive an additional 2½ ounces of fat and 3½ ounces more of sugar.

COUNSEL LOCK IN LEGAL BATTLE OVER ADMIS- SION New Security Measure Russia Bans Talking With All Foreigners

By WALTER CRONKITE
MOSCOW, Jan. 28.—(RUP)—The Soviet government prohibited Russians from talking to foreigners today and designated Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's foreign office as the sole clearing house for contact with the outside world.
The official decree applied specifically to Russian officials and employees of the state. Most enterprises in Russia are state-owned and operated and the order applies to all persons employed in these fields.
The only exemptions to the blanket decree were the ministry of foreign trade, which may handle foreign contacts with permission of the foreign office, and such working people as clerks, waiters and hotel sellers.
The clerks and waiters, however, were warned they must restrict their conversations with foreigners to the "limits of their usual functions on penalty of prosecution under the criminal code. Punishment was not specified.

Any Soviet official other than those in the foreign ministry approached personally by a foreign diplomat must not discuss the question asked. Answers must be limited to an explanation that the inquiry must be directed to the ministry of foreign affairs.
The decree was passed Dec. 16 by order of the Supreme Soviet to tighten up security. It was published yesterday in the official gazette.

The decree provides that all representations made by foreign states or individuals regarding their nature, must be handled only by the ministry of foreign affairs.

Ferry Hits Floating Mine More Than 300 Die As Jap Ship Sunk

TOKYO, Jan. 28.—(RUP)—Upward of 300 passengers of the wooden Japanese ferry Jo Maru were reported killed or drowned early today when the vessel struck a mine in the Iliand Sea and sank in one minute.

THE JAPANESE merchant-marine set the death toll at 173, but allied headquarters said it may have exceeded 200.

Among the survivors were three British soldiers. The rest of the passengers were Japanese.

The Japanese survivors said that after striking the mine, the ferry whirled frantically for aid. It went down in less than a minute.

The ferry was on a routine run from Osaka, on Honshu Island, through the inland sea to Yokohama, Shikoku, and Iliand Sea. It was carrying 300 passengers and 100 crew.

US NAVAL officers said the channel still was being cleared of mines planted and sown by the Japanese. The rest of the passengers were Japanese.

It was believed the ferry hit a floating mine and sank. The vessel was carrying 300 passengers and 100 crew.

Screen Star's Views of Britain Cause Hullabaloo in Press

LONDON, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Hollywood screen star Loretta Young's observations about her recent trip to London hit the front pages today. The reaction generally was a shocked but restrained "Loretta, how could you!"

MIS YOUNG was quoted as saying that British factory workers found about 11 o'clock for lack of food. She said, according to the published quote, that Englishmen have heard there are no razor blades available, that people walk on cardboard-patched shoes. She trumped on a lot of toes when she said that fish-the partner of chips-is fried in paraffin because of a lack of fat.

The Daily Herald said it didn't ordinarily print "fiction," but that she said it in the world's largest newspaper. An editorial gave the actress a sober lecture. It explained, replying to another story, that she thought she saw.

THE NEWS, largest circulating afternoon paper in the world, deplained its story by printing Loretta Young's remarks in two columns headed: "Life in Britain, by Loretta Young."

Avert Overthrow Of Schuman Govt.

PARIS, Jan. 28.—(RUP)—The Socialist party decided today to abstain in the critical assembly vote on devaluation measures, thus apparently averting the threatened overthrow of Premier Robert Schuman's government.

The Socialist decision to abstain broke up a majority in the national assembly which had banded together to defeat the government proposal to create a free market in gold.

The government had threatened after a long and arduous struggle to resign if Parliament persisted in fighting the devaluation program.

The cabinet met to map its strategy for the assembly vote on the devaluation program aimed at stabilizing the franc in money and gold.

Observers gave Schuman the upper hand over a dissenting assembly after he rallied from an earlier defeat yesterday and forced the deputies to consider the bill as an urgent question, after a virtual vote of no confidence.

The premier won a demand for assembly debate on the bill 373 to 16. A midday last session had warned, "to refuse discussion would make impossible the existence of this government."

$50,000 PLEDGED FOR BLIND CARE

More than $50,000 in donations to the forthcoming "Build for the Blind" campaign was pledged during the annual meeting of the special name committee which was held in the Edmonton club Tuesday evening.

T. C. PULSTON stated the drive to raise $50,000 to build the residence and service center for the blind of North Alberta was long overdue and that the C. W. Wood ward Co. Ltd. of Edmonton considered it a privilege to donate $10,000 to the campaign. The Northwest Indians would also donate $2,000. It was also reported that numerous citizens pledged $1,000 towards the fund. Other pledges were made at Tuesday night's meeting.

During the meeting John D. Downes, chairman of the special name committee and the 30 men and women agreed to serve on his committee.

TUESDAY'S DINNER was under the auspices of the C. W. Woodward Co. and represented a cross-section of leading business and professional men of the city.

Crippled Veteran Dies of Smoke

VAL D'AMICO, N.B. Jan. 28. (CP)—Unable to move quickly because of war wounds, 32-year-old Ernest Power awakened his aged parents in their home caught fire here Monday and then died in the flaming building as his parents fled in terror.

Crippled by six wounds received while serving in the Pacific with the American army, Power was aged to call a warning to his parents to get out of the house by smoke and collapsed.

Move to New Location

It's Moose Round-Up Time, Elk Island Park

Elk Island National Park, 25 miles east of Edmonton, is usually a quiet spot for picnicking and golfing and a place of interest visited by thousands of tourists every year, but scenes at that popular summer park during the last two weeks have been reminiscent of the old days on the prairie when cattle roundups were numerous.

THE RIDERS (officially known as park wardens), however, are not driving herds on the back of horses but are corralling Moose for shipment to Alberta.

Up to Tuesday, two truckloads of the big wild animals had been rounded up, driven into corrals, loaded on trucks and shipped to the city. Tuesday's round-up was the last of the season. The wardens were busy again as they rounded up the last few to complete the season's round-up.

Then, as the big truck drove out of the park and along the highway towards Edmonton to Olds, the animals with the big antlers were being examined by the wardens. They didn't know it, but they were heading for the first real freedom they had ever known.

After reaching Olds, the moose are taken into the business district where they are set free to enjoy the natural surroundings provided by nature.

During the last few years the number of animals that have been shipped has increased greatly and just recently the Alberta government has been requested to send officials to find a means of shipping the animals out and keep the park from becoming over-crowded with animals.

The club at the Alberta Fish and Game Association was quick to agree to move the animals to the hotel where they are housed until they are shipped. They have been carrying out the operation under the supervision of the Alberta government.

LAST YEAR 150 head of deer were transported to the city. This year the number of the most southerly region of the province to be shipped according to recent reports are flourishing in the new atmosphere. The animals, in the care of the wardens, are being shipped to Olds, Alberta, to be shipped to Olds. The roundup of the big game in the park is carried out under the supervision of Dr. J. Love, superintendent of the park. The Alberta Fish and Game Association has taken such an interest in the moving out of the animals it is, of course, to help build up the population of Moose and deer in the northern part of the province near the foothills.

The animals might be easy prey for hunters in the winter but winter after having been allowed to roam in the open country and for this reason, shooting of the animals is restricted in the region of the Clear Water and North Saskatchewan rivers.

THE QUESTION of rounding up the animals in the park some time later several days after the roundup of the animals is being carried out. The animals are not near as tame as they were at first and every precaution is taken by the warden to not startle the Moose. If even one of the animals is taken to a dangerous place, the warden would likely make the entire herd nervous.

The wardens, however, have no intention of treating the animals as nature during the present roundup and have been able to drive the Moose into the corrals without too much difficulty. Some of the animals spend several days in the corral before they are shipped and during that time brush has to be hauled for feed. This is quite difficult.

that it was evident the drive would receive the whole-hearted support of various organizations and all citizens.

Mr. Moore stressed the importance of the campaign and the need for giving for the building capital fund only, and not for any maintenance because the CNIB is a charitable organization and the member of the Community Chest.

Resolution Passed

Early Alberta Liberal Convention, Is Sought

A resolution asking for an early meeting of the Liberal provincial council or a provincial convention was endorsed at a meeting of the Edmonton Young Liberal Association on Tuesday night in the USO hall. Charles Cogburn, who originated the resolution, said he felt that insufficient help was being extended to Harper Province, Alberta Liberal leader.

MR. PROWSE was making his appeal to younger people in the province and was meeting with a most encouraging response, one young man reported. He suggested that the sooner the Liberal party became a young man's party and got 100 of some of the older Liberals "who couldn't win an election" out of the party, the better it would be for the party future.

J. K. Macle was re-elected as president of the group. Other officers were: First vice-president, Miss Mary Scullion; second vice-president, Miss Ruth Bryant; secretary, Miss Ruth Bryant; and treasurer, Mrs. R. B. Hurland.

Groups from the organization are investigating various phases of work. The group is planning a series of a research committee, headed by George Campbell. The review of the group is being forwarded under each department to the national committee for candidates and other public affairs.

Westerner Club Honor Burns

The Westerner Burns Club celebrated its 10th anniversary with a "Burns' hirt" at a supper held in the club on Tuesday evening.

The reply to the toast "Immortal Memory of the 'Hard of Hearing' Burns" was given by George Hunter, professor of the University of Alberta. Dr. Hunter spent the early part of his childhood in Burns' home.

"Burns and the New Democrats" was the subject of an address by Dr. Urruall.

Ignatius Donnelly presented a toast to the "Lassies" and the reply was made by Mrs. Neuse Wronner. Scotch songs were sung by a group of recently came to Canada from Scotland.

The entertainers for the evening were: Bill Ness, Scotch comedian; Bobbie Stoker, pianist; Miss Mabel Stoker and Helen Smith, dancers; and a group of recently came to Canada from Scotland.

Plans for the conversion from coal to gas heating in seven city schools at a total estimated cost of $8,967.46, were approved at Tuesday night's meeting of the Edmonton Public School Board in the civic block.

The CONVENTION program would include the installation of coal piping, gas burners and automatic controls and the cost of service lines from the mains to the buildings.

The schools to be affected, with the estimated cost of each, are: King Edward, $1,214.43; North Central, $1,214.43; North West, $1,214.43; and St. Mary's, $1,214.43.

The board also approved a plan to convert the school at 142 street and 121 street. He was fined $20 and cost of $30.

Edmonton's YMCA Building In Urgent Need Replacement

A parade of champions, shifts, a high bar exhibition and the presentation of awards depicted a year of progress to the 150 members and guests in attendance at the annual meeting of the Edmonton Young Men's Christian Association held in the YMCA Tuesday evening.

LEN P. BROMHAM, Les Nichols, and Joel K. Smith were elected to the board of directors. The board of directors will meet on the board until Dec. 31, 1950.

Opening devotions were presented to the following well known Edmonton citizens who total a century of service to the local association: W. A. Porter, Thornton Graham, and James Taylor. The awards were presented by Walter Moore of the personnel committee.

City Not Involved Stolen Car Ring

Edmonton is not so far involved in the recently exposed nation-wide stolen car ring, Detective Inspector Bert Peterson said here Wednesday. He said he has received no word of car stolen in this city being recovered in other parts of the Dominion.

It was reported Tuesday that a car stolen from Calgary was recovered at the West Coast. The vehicle's serial number and license plates had been altered. On Monday the Edmonton police announced that investigations led them to believe a stolen car ring was operating as far east as Montreal.

MR. SMITH reminded his audience that the YMCA is in accordance with modern trends towards more educational programs, rather than a mere social club.

According to Mr. Smith, negotiations are under way to endeavor to secure the necessary land and the architect of the new Young Men's Christian Association building in the city. It is hoped that construction will commence as soon as Smith's material and labor can be reasonably assured, added Mr. Smith.

THE SPEAKER expressed his confidence that the youth of today are ready and anxious to take their full part in the building of the new city. He said that the Christian ideal and its resulting in great social and economic problems which face the world today.

Mr. Smith referred to the fact that 1948 is the 44th anniversary of the founding of the Edmonton YMCA. He stressed the point that the building of the new city is a task that will require the cooperation of all citizens.

Edmonton Professor Talks On Interplanetary Travel

Addresses Meet

DR. J. W. CAMPBELL

Embargo Threat Serious to Canada

OTTAWA, Jan. 28. (CP)—A threatened United States export embargo on petroleum products would be a national calamity for Canada, Trade Minister Howe gravely told the Commons yesterday, and he said the Dominion was doing all it could to avert it.

Canada now can produce only 11 per cent of her oil requirements, Mr. Howe declared, and if the huge flow from below the border were cut off, it would be "a calamity of the first order."

Mr. Howe made his brief warning statement to the house as the U.S. senate considered a bill that would ban all U.S. exports of petroleum products for a year to conserve that nation's diminishing stocks.

Quebec Man Heads Shoe Manufacturers

MONTREAL, Jan. 28. (CP)—Paul Ducharme of Quebec was elected president of the Shoe Manufacturers' Association of Canada yesterday at the association's 29th annual meeting. He succeeded J. A. Belvin of Montreal.

By JACK AVESON
WINNIPEG, Jan. 28. (CP)—Canadian who thought of atomic energy as a mysterious force which could be utilized to bring about fulfillment of any number of previously impossible dreams are in for at least one disappointment.

Atomic energy is not likely to be of much help in propelling rockets on trips to the moon.

The word has come from Dr. J. W. Campbell of Edmonton, president of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada.

He told a meeting of the organization's local branch this week that while atomic energy is terrific, on rocket flights to the moon it would not be the energy but the momentum of the ejected material which would count. And he feared the momentum caused by atomic energy would only be moderate.

Moreover, as an atomic pile now functions it would be necessary to take along a great amount of non-propelling material in order to have atomic reaction and the crew would need to be heavily insulated against radiation.

Despite these discouraging remarks, Dr. Campbell said that there are many persons who sincerely believe that moon travel will become a reality within the not-too-distant future.

Societies studying the possibility of lunar flights have been formed in several countries, the British Interplanetary Society in the United Kingdom and the American Rocket Society in the United States.

There appear to be enough problems involving construction of suitable rockets, methods to be used in take-offs and other details, how to keep these persons busy for a long time.

Life Sentence For Wife Slayer

BESSEMER, Ala., Jan. 28. (AP)—Albert S. (Johnny) West, 24, was sentenced to life imprisonment in circuit court yesterday for the slaying of his divorced wife, Mrs. Ann Patton, at a tourist court cafe Dec. 7.

West pleaded guilty before Judge Reuben Wright. Mrs. Patton, who came here several years ago from Regina, was employed in a Birmingham hospital.

Annual Banquet and Dance Colorful Affair

380 ALBERTA MARITIMERS ENJOY GAY RE-UNION NIGHT

The pound of the surf and the scent of the sea could be sensed in the Macdonald hotel Tuesday evening when more than 380 Maritimers gathered for the 18th annual banquet and dance of the Maritime Provinces Association in Edmonton. "Bluenoses" from all over Alberta were present to revel in the pride in their heritage of the sea. Old and young joined in the reminiscing of their days in the little provinces by the sea.

IT WAS A GALA and colorful affair, the biggest night of the year for the Maritimers in Alberta. J. H. Brown was named president of the association to succeed J. V. Dods.

Other officers for the new year include: H. L. Sutherland, Nova Scotia vice-president; Edgar E. Nottles, New Brunswick vice-president; H. M. Sellers, Prince Edward Island, vice president; Miss F. J. Perry, secretary; Miss L. M. McNeill, treasurer.

Committee chairman are: Percy Johnson, president; Mrs. Albert E. Knauer, program; Mrs. Florence Italian, membership; Chester A. McKim, telephone; Mrs. F. J. Kileen, slide and visiting; J. H. Fulton, press.

A. E. Allen, Lloyd B. McCumb, W. A. Hymel, John Fawcett and Miss Annabelle Macdonald are members at large.

The Hon. Clarence E. Gherhart brought greetings from the Province of Alberta and the provincial government. He spoke of the "ancient mariners" who have come from the sea to the prairies and have contributed so much to the development of Alberta. "There, one seems to be proud of the Maritimers," said Mr. Gherhart, "at least those who do are certainly proud of it." Maritimers have always taken great pride in their sailing ships and sailors and the great numbers of Maritimers in Alberta is probably responsible for the advice that our prairie boys in the world now, added Mr. Gherhart.

President

Mr. Brown, in his inaugural address, said that there are more than 380 Maritimers in Edmonton, and with time and effort, the Maritime Provinces Association can be the biggest organization in the city. This year an all-out membership drive will be put on. It is the intention of the executive, continued Mr. Brown, to organize women's

With true "bluenose" pride in his heritage, Mr. Brown said, whether with tongue in cheek or not, "Look where you will—at home or abroad; in theology, law, in arts, in science, and in industry, and you will find that the leaders were born and raised on the fertile lands of the island, in the seaport towns of Nova Scotia, or on the fisheries of New Brunswick."

Prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Smith, formerly of New Brunswick, who celebrated their 26th wedding anniversary last summer. To the oldest men and women present from their respective provinces, Mrs. Sarah Tovey Bruce and Joseph Smith, of Nova Scotia, and Mr. Walter Haskett and Mrs. McNeil, of Prince Edward Island, to a S. Villmore of New Brunswick. Prizes were presented to Mrs. Vera Smith, one of the original executive of the association to Mrs. Roy Lawhead, who came from Jasper for the occasion to William Maxwell, and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Marven, recent arrivals from New Brunswick.

Miss Della Findlay is leaving Wednesday night by TCA for Vancouver where she will be bridesmaid at the wedding of Winifred Douglas to Douglas Clifford, which will take place in St. John's United Church Saturday. The bride-elect is a former resident of Edmonton.

Good Grooming Success Secret

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—(CP)—At least four of Canada's 10 best-dressed women say the secret of looking smart is acquaintance with a pressing, cloth and iron.

All four—Toronto's contribution to the charmed circle of 10 named by women's editors of daily newspapers—maintain that the key to fashion leader, in fact, is that they have few clothes, but specialize in dress shades which can be dressed up and varied with accessories and touches of trim while, least, grooming rather than expensive wardrobe is their guide.

Mrs. George Brown, of Ontario's premier, says all her clothes "must pay their way." Daughter of Edward Johnston, general manager and former trend of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and Viscountess Beatrice d'Ambo, Mrs. Brown always has had the privilege of buying nice things, "but always on a budget, never with an unlimited limit."

Her advice to fashion aspirants is purchase of good basic-garments in black or navy to be worn with bright accessories. "The punctuation of style," never buy on the spur of the moment or for a special occasion, she warns.

Brynn Hogg, fashion expert at the Ontario's premier, says all her clothes "must pay their way." Daughter of Edward Johnston, general manager and former trend of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and Viscountess Beatrice d'Ambo, Mrs. Brown always has had the privilege of buying nice things, "but always on a budget, never with an unlimited limit."

An "immaculate white catches the eye and looks better than dark colors," Miss Samuels said. Its very selection and the care you give it rather than what you wear that makes the difference in good grooming.

Clare Wallace, woman's commentator, stated that "modesty" is the key to good grooming. "I mainly because she's too busy to drop into stores more than once every three months, she appreciates of the longer look on most women but she is a little bit of a worry about much herself."

Miss Walker says she still wears suits, hats and dresses at least five years old. If they can be lengthened, fixed, but otherwise she wears them about.

National president of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, Mrs. Hyland New of Oakville, Ont., likes exotic color in her dress, but sticks to conservative lines herself. Cleanliness and neatness are her mottoes, and of being "well-dressed."

And all four were nothing but Canadian-made clothes.

Reta Olsen Banff Bride

BANFF, Jan. 28.—Rundie McMillan Church here was decorated with yellow and white streamers and ferns for the recent wedding of Miss Reta Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Olsen of Banff, to Const. William Kenneth Barker, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barker, of Edmonton. The Rev. T. H. Lonsdale performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and was given away by the bride's father. The bride wore a fitted bodice and a bouffant skirt. Her bouquet was a spray of white lilies, and her train was a full-length veil of embroidered silk net from a real pearl earring.

Biological Warfare Secret Is Now Told

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—One of the war's best-kept secrets—how the United States and Canada prepared for expected "biological warfare" attacks against their livestock—was disclosed to a congressional committee yesterday.

DR. R. E. SHOPE, veterinary research expert for the Rockefeller Foundation of New York and chief of the light-guarded operation, described in detail before a house of representatives agricultural subcommittee.

Financed jointly by the United States war department and the Canadian government, a secret experimental station was built on the island of a remote speck of land at the mouth of the St. Lawrence river.

Shope told the subcommittee that "emergency" experiments were conducted with viruses of the deadly animal disease "rinderpest" between the United States and Canada expected the enemy to try to introduce this dread infection into North American herds and flocks.

The operation was so secret, he said, that the rinderpest virus never was referred to by name. The official code designation to

The Coming Russian error

By Stanislaw Mikolajczyk
Former Prime Minister of Poland and President of the Polish Peasant Party

Installment XXI

In today's installment Stanislaw Mikolajczyk tells how Roosevelt and Churchill, upon visiting Stalin at Yalta, how Russia acted, leaders of the Polish underground after inviting them to Moscow for "consultations," and how he started for Russia himself despite pointed warnings that he "might have an airplane accident on the way."

I was succeeded as Prime Minister of the Polish Government in exile by Tomasz Arciszewski, veteran Socialist, who had spent most of the war in the Warsaw underground. Arciszewski took office on November 29, 1944, in an atmosphere of deepening despair for Poles at home and abroad.

ON DECEMBER 18 of that year, Prime Minister Churchill's changed outlook on Poland was indicated by the House of Commons. The British on January 5, 1945, recognized the Lublin Poles as the official government of Poland.

The Red Army by the time had plunged most of the way across Poland and was on the verge of the Polish Home Army along the way and then disarming and arresting the Polish patriots as soon as each victory was secured.

But Warsaw, a dead city, remained technically in German hands, though a long since had been bypassed. By January 17, after it was abundantly obvious that the Home Army of Warsaw had either been completely slaughtered or carried off as prisoners of war into Germany, and the Germans had been given time systematically to destroy the city, the Red Army was ordered to move in.

In Stalin, with both a political and a military eye on his best ally, Roosevelt Churchill and Roosevelt at Yalta for what turned out to be the last meeting of these three who were among the most powerful "decisive" in history.

THE BIG THREE drew up final plans for the defeat and future of Germany, issued a declaration on liberated Europe, discussed enemy reparations, the Balkans and the Polish question.

In the case of Poland, Churchill and Roosevelt after long consultations with the Polish leaders in Poland and elsewhere, they had recently reached at Tehran.

In effect they recognized the Lublin Government, the Polish Committee for National Liberation, and they approved the Curzon line as the eastern frontier of Poland—thus guaranteeing the invasion of that 1939-occupied area by the Red Army in 1939.

They added that the Lublin Government must be "reorganized on a broader democratic basis" and appointed Molotov, Averell Harriman, and British Ambassador to Moscow, Sir Stafford Cripps, to a commission to consult with the Polish Government and Polish leaders in Poland and elsewhere about the formation of the Provisional Government.

"Free and unfettered elections" were to be held in Poland, as soon as possible on the basis of universal suffrage and the secret ballot.

Above all, they said, "we re-emphasized our common desire to establish a strong, free, independent and democratic Poland."

The Polish Government in London promptly rejected the Yalta decisions on Poland on the grounds that the Polish Committee for National Liberation, which was recognized by every other country except Britain, had been consulted in the matter of its postwar fate.

THE METHOD adopted in the case of Poland is a contradiction of the elementary principle of the Allies, and it is a violation of the letter and spirit of the Atlantic Charter and the right of every nation to defend its own interests. It was stated in the London agreement that Churchill won the approval of the House of Commons for his interpretation of the Crimea decisions in respect to Poland, and that he had been invited to yielding to Russia, he said, "I became I know that the happy days that lay ahead for Poland and started."

The impression I brought back from the Crimea is that Marshal Stalin and the Soviet leaders with equality with the western democracies.

ONLY 30 MEMBERS of Parliament expressed disapproval by abstaining from voting on the Yalta decision on Poland. G. D. Strachan, a Conservative, offered, as a substitute, the restoration of the Polish Secretary to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, immediately accepted it.

Before a joint session of Congress, Roosevelt said the Big Three had reached "the most important agreement that was possible." He added, "a strong, independent and prosperous Polish nation; that the thing was most adequate remedy for those who argued by Russia, Britain and me."

At the beginning of March, 1945, leaders of the Polish underground consisting of all recognized parties except the Communist Party, were asked by representatives of the Lublin "government" to go to Moscow for political consultations concerning the future of Poland. They were promised that they would have safe conduct to and from Poland and that they would be permitted to go to return home.

ON MARCH 27, Vice-Premier Jan Zankowski, Speaker of the Sejm, and Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, former commander of the Home Army, met in London. In the minutes of the meeting, it was stated that they would have safe conduct to and from Poland and that they would be permitted to go to return home.

On the following day, 13 more Polish leaders, including the chairman of the parties represented in the underground, journeyed to Moscow.
